Here is the western tip of Maryland . . . High in the Alleghenies, where the cool, clean mountain air provides an ideal environment for a vacation paradise. Deep Creek Lake, in the heart of Garrett County, is one of Maryland's most popular resort areas . . . where you may bask in the warm sunshine, or swim in the clean, blue waters, or go boating on the lake's scenic surface. In "Maryland's Mountain Top Playground," you may camp or picnic in the quiet shadows beside a mountain stream or a picturesque lake, play golf or tennis in the invigorating high-altitude air. And all the while, as an extra bonus of pleasure, you will enjoy the beauties of the mountains and valleys and calm, unspoiled pastoral splendor.

Nature Created A Mountain Paradise . . .

Deep Creek Lake today has developed into an incredibly big resort business for private investors, and one of the most powerful hydro-electric plants in the East.

The history of this highly popular resort and electric plant dates back to 1923. The Youghiogheny Hydro-Plant Corporation constructed a dam for power making to furnish electricity. Seven thousand acres of land was acquired, including 140 farms. This giant hydro-electric plant was designed and built within two years. Actually, this huge body of water is an earth embankment with a concrete core, 86 feet high. Impounded water is carried by a tunnel through Marsh Mountain to the penstocks which feed two turbines in the power house. The crest of the dam is 2,500 feet above sea level and the turbines are 440 feet below the intake tunnel, giving a supply of water that makes it one of the largest in the East.

The resort development came about when the Pennsylvania Electric Company purchased the dam in 1942 and leased the lake rights to the Maryland Inland Fish and Game Commission for recreation use.

The steady building of this mountain-top resort began almost immediately. The lake had something rare for boating, a good wind. Property owners began to sell land for resort purposes. Today the 65 miles of shoreline is completely dotted with cottages, boat docks and resort buildings. Any type of recreation can be enjoyed, from big time fishing to camping, water skiing and sailboating. Yearly, the stream of tourists increases, boat owners grow in number, lavish cottages are erected. Big capital is interested. This combined hydro-electric plant and recreation resort is the most profitable combine in joint operation in Western Maryland.

Then, too, Deep Creek Lake is the glamorous gateway to the splendid tall mountains that attract hundreds of tourists yearly. This resort wears water as a glittering necklace for the jewel of outdoor pleasure.

waters for the skin diver to explore, smooth lake for water skier, fashionable shops for milady, theatre and art for culture.

All this wonderfulness began with a railroad. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was the first single agency to see the resort potential in this area. In 1850-51, a railway system was built across the mountains from the Potomac to Cheat River.

There was nothing here but utter wilderness. The railroad village of Swanton, Md., thrived into development. Farms were cleared and timber companies located by the railroad. The county was formed and named Garrett, after John W. Garrett, president of the railroad company. Yough Glades, known as Oakland, became the county seat and commercial center in the new county.

Again the resort mountain-top playground had its beginning with the railroad. Deer Park was one of the most fashionable resorts in the East. A plush, elegant hotel was erected by the railroad to accommodate the train loads of vacationers from Baltimore and Washington. Some of America's most celebrated figures came to this resort, including two presidents and Henry Ford.

The years brought a decline in interest in Deer Park, but the resort idea remained and Deep Creek Lake Resort was the result of this venture sponsored by the railroad. Today the railroad still plays a very necessary part in this mountain-top resort life. In spring vacationers come by train to Oakland; traffic is heavy from April to December, then again in February when the big ski rush is on.

Mountain Breezes Fill Sails of Yacht Fanciers

A sailboat enthusiast can find all the thrills of an exhilarating romp with the refreshing breezes lurking in the lake basin.

An aura of glamor, peace and challenge seems to hang over these waters and lull the visitor into a tranquil and luxurious sense of well-being. This sun-drenched cove is a haven for sailboats.

A very progressive Yacht Club, which had its origin in 1933 sponsors a highlighted Maryland Championship Regatta Race yearly. Boats enter from all parts of Maryland. The events include Maryland Snipe Championship, Maryland Rebel Championship and the Flying Scot Championship. The winning skipper receives a special award of land. This year's winner will be given one-half acre of land on the crest of Backbone Mountain (elevation 3300 feet) his heirs, successors and assigns in fee simple forever.

Due to the central location of the Oakland area, the Gordon K. Douglass Boat Company has established a thriving boat-making firm. Also found here is a good labor supply and the Deep Creek Lake, which is 2,500 feet above sea level and an excellent testing and demonstration area. This boat company markets several well known sailboats, the Flying Scot the most famous and well sailed. The Flying Scot is a fiberglass nineteen-footer that has progressed to sixteen fleets in use. The Douglass boats go all over the world. There are plans to extend into a further range of design. This mountain-top plant is ideal for boat building.

This year's Regatta is scheduled for July 30, 31, 1960.

For An Afternoon Jaunt

Bear Creek Area

For those interested in painting or sketching, we recommend the Bear Creek area north of Accident, off U. S. Route 219. This route begins with the rugged area beside 219 and as the road winds up the valley the traveler comes to Kaese's Mill. This property is owned by former State Senator and Mrs. Clifford Friend. On this spot one may see the well preserved water mill that has been grinding grain for the farmers of this region for over three quarters of a century. The fact that the mill race and the water wheel are in plain view at the rear of the mill will give parents an opportunity to have their children see a practical application of the principle of changing flowing water into mechanical power. The artist will find the beautiful greens and browns a challenge and an inspiration.

Farther up the winding road the traveler will see the ruins of the old Engle mill. A pause beside these ruins will afford the viewer an excellent opportunity to see the Early American craftsmanship, shown in the intricate manner in which the timbers of the mill were mortised and jointed together.

The road ends at the Maryland State Fish Hatchery. Here the white rushing waters of Bear Creek have been diverted into beautiful pools for the fish hatchery. Children will delight in seeing the schools of trout swimming around at feeding time.

Castleman River Bridge

The beautiful stonework of the Castleman River bridge can be seen from U. S. Route 40, just east of Grantsville, Md. A small park has been developed here by the Department of Forests and Parks.

Children will enjoy wading in the peaceful Castleman River and adults will find a rewarding experience in observing the unusual structure of the old bridge which formed a part of the Cumberland road, the road that played such an important role in the westward movement during the early days of the Nineteenth Century.

An equally delightful experience can be had at the nearby Penn Alps. In this old restored inn is a dining room where Dutch food and other dishes are served. There is a Crafts room where arts and crafts peculiar to this region are sold. There are also rooms for tourists at Penn Alps. Nearby is the old Stanton Mill, built in 1832 and still in use.

The Cat Rock

Over a million years ago, some animals walked across a muddy plot on the margin of a swamp or pond. They left their tracks, clearly defined footprints. Mixed with the fine grains of sand were some cementing material such as iron oxide, silica, or lime carbonate. The sun baked this into very hard rock. This rock is now an extensive slab of sandstone near the top-most spine of Backbone mountain. The bigger tracks are supposedly those of some cat-like creature. They measure four inches in length with the stride between 18 to 24 inches. The smaller tracks were probably those of their young.

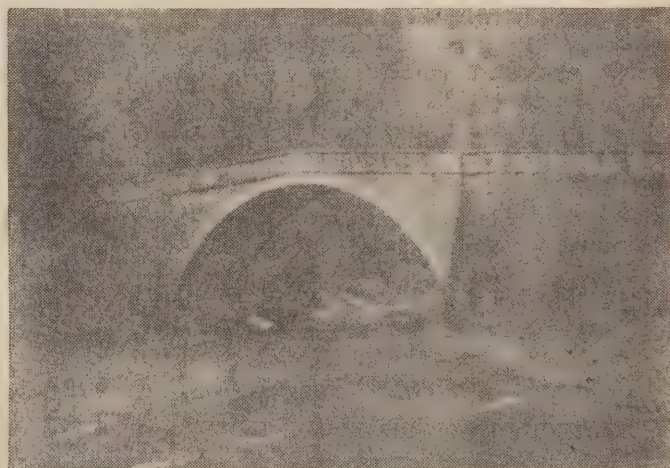

The location of the Cat Rock is about two miles southwest of Table Rock. Cat Rock is on the southeastern slope where the Potomac watershed begins. From this point where the hump of the mountain is quite narrow one may toss a pebble to where water flows toward the Ohio, the Mississippi, and the Gulf of Mexico. These fossil tracks have been reported to the Smithsonian Institute. The indentations are one-half to three-quarters of an inch deep.

The Land of Canaan

Good roads and a little more than an hour's drive from Oakland will bring the motorist to the Canaan Valley, famed for its scenic beauty. The Valley, its surroundings and its interesting people are depicted in a delightful new book written by Jack Preble, a member of the Garrett County Historical Society.

Fairfax Stone

All students of American history are familiar with the story of George Washington's early career as a surveyor during the Colonial period of our country. One of the larger projects which he undertook was a survey of Lord Fairfax's lands in the Western end of Virginia (now West Virginia.) One of the boundary points which he established at the head waters of the North Branch of the Potomac River has been named the Fairfax Stone. Although the original stone has disintegrated over the years, a large marker stands nearby and it serves as one

"Miss Information" At Your Service

In the heart of Deep Creek Lake along U. S. Route 219 is the little white Information Booth which is operated by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Inc. Open daily for service to the tourists, guests are informed by Miss Delores Vetter and Miss Beverly Winters, both college graduates.

Probably no other activity per square foot exceeds the hustle and bustle at the booth during the summer season. Daily and weekly vacancy schedules are kept for all motel and cottage owners who are members of the Council. Tourists can be advised of available accommodations upon arrival or by phoning the Information Center, DEerfield 4-2285. In addition, rates and all other pertinent information is filed and kept at fingertips to serve guests to Deep Creek Lake.

If you need directions to a friend's cottage, a picnic area, public swimming site, fishing conditions, a boat to rent, boat or fish license, directions to places of interest, motel or hotel accommodations, stop at the Information Center and just say, "Information, Please!"

Perhaps you would like to know the church schedules, where to hire a baby sitter, what play is featured at the Playhouse, where to purchase charcoal or how many miles to Oakland. Just inquire at the Information Center. Every tourist receives a copy of the latest Vacation Guide along with explicit directions written on a map of the lake. Individual inquiries by mail are promptly answered and all this is done without charge.

Regardless of who you are or what your question may be, you'll be given service with a smile at the Information Center.

"Sugaring Time" Finds The Pot Boiling In Garrett County

Sugar can be a sweet business; maple sugar at that. Americans are true lovers of pancakes and maple syrup. This is a heritage that will never pass with the modern world.

Garrett County today has a very productive and profitable maple sugar and maple syrup business that ranks with that of the celebrated New England.

Sugar making is an experience and an art. This art began back in the yesteryears with our forefathers. In those days sugar making was an event for fun and social gathering and family grouped labor. The precious sugar water was caught in pails hanging from trees snagged by a nail thrust into the trunk of the tree.

Today the sugar camp is a highly organized unit of production. The season begins with the thaws of March and lasts until the trees begin to bud in April. Large galvanized vats are used to simmer the water with the luscious sweet taste. A truck or jeep pickup system is used to convey the water to the vats. Snow is still on the ground at this time and hauling can have problems. There can still be seen at the old landmark camps a two-horse wagon lumbering along with water spilling down over the side of the wagon wheels, freezing into magical patterns of delight. After the water thickens to a golden flow, the syrup is filtered and barrelled for shipment, each barrel bearing the Garrett County label. This label is known East and West.

The Garrett County sugar camps are located in the Grantsville-Accident areas.

The Lakes and Mountains Beckon

Resort summers are sunsplashed enjoyment on a large scale. Deep Creek Lake follows the pattern of timing when it comes to activities pretty much in scale to most popular resorts. Here most of the hotels and motels have thrown away their keys and remain open the year round. The main exception is Deep Creek State Park, the lake's new addition, which continues to close at summer's end.

For summer visitors who want to sample all the activities is to settle in some centrally located place and take daily excursions. All the motels and lodging places have a vast detail of information for the asking; maps are a boon to good vacationing. The best guide to anywhere, lakewise, is the native non-professional guide who loves and knows every crook and bend of the shoreline and mountain trail.

It doesn't take money to have a good time in the country. There is fun for the looking and at this lake-side resort a part of yourself goes into the good vacation of your choice. It is easy here to enjoy groups and gather at a favorite inn and have a Maryland planned dinner; go sailing in the sheer magic of a sunset; plan for a theatre party with the Summer Straw group; golf, aquaplane, shoot bow and arrows, munch a delicious roadside stand hamburger, cast off to fishing lures and live. . .live. . . This huge expanse of lake and mountains brings to you a way of living that is a permanent memory that appeals to heart, budget and age.

Autumn Glory Time Marks Changing Seasons

It happens every autumn. . . The Autumn Glory Train makes up in Washington and Baltimore and puffs up the grades of the majestic Allegheny Mountains and comes to a stop in Oakland, Maryland.

The Garrett County Promotion Council in co-operation with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad arrange a special ticket rate for passengers to come up into the deep wooded, colorful October nature splendor of Western Maryland.

Clubs and Organizations form private parties; rent a full car and make an exciting day for visiting and seeing the complete realm of beauty arrayed in Garrett County and the surrounding farmlands.

Nature brings to this part of Maryland's doorstep flaming treasures of scarlet and aspens shimmering gold in the mountain passes threaded by winding trailways where tree foliage is usually at its peak the first week of October. The peaks are green in spruce and pine and sprinkled with every color in Nature's pattern, then go along in broad banks of color stretched down to the lakefront; giving a look that God's handicraft has swept all leaves and flaming hues of the forest out to the serene mirror of the lake.

Activities are planned by local groups at each stop. Tours are planned for two week-ends, the second week in October. Announcements are made in advance by the B&O. Reservations can be made by writing to the Garrett County Promotion Council, Oakland, Maryland.

Bookmobile Serves Entire CountyModern Library Provides Reading For Moments Of Relaxation

Vacation time is a good time for reading. The Ruth Enlow Library on Second Street in Oakland has a wide selection of books for all ages. The new best sellers, the classics, "how-to" books, history and travel, mystery and adventure are all to be found in abundance on the library's shelves. Magazines, phonograph records, maps and pamphlets may also be borrowed.

Summer residents and visitors are always welcome to use the reading rooms and to borrow books. The library staff will be glad to help check a "required reading" list for school or college, to find material on a special subject, or to locate a particular book. Books requested which are not in the collection can usually be borrowed by the library from the Division of Library Extension of the Maryland Department of Education.

The young people's room has a large and varied collection, from picture books for pre-schoolers to vocational materials for teenagers. The library offers to children and young people not only hours of amusement but also opportunities for improving reading skills and exploring new fields of knowledge. Science, history, geography, biography, poetry and folklore are attractively presented in new books which fascinate young readers.

The Bookmobile brings all of the resources of the library to distant parts of the county. This year a new bookmobile carrying 1,500 books covers the busy schedule of 28 neighborhood stops. A number of people can select and check out books at one time in this spacious, well-equipped bookmobile. Modern heating, lighting and ventilation, skylights and electric fans make it bright and comfortable at every season of the year.

An eager crowd usually awaits the scheduled visit of the Bookmobile, at rural crossroads as well as on the main streets of the county towns. Bookmobile patrons come on foot, by car, truck, bicycle, pony, and sometimes even by boat.

Children and adults at each stop choose from well-stocked shelves and request other books to be brought on the next trip. Garrett County residents and visitors in increasing numbers are taking advantage of this service. The Bookmobile visits every community in the county where a stop has been requested by several families. Information about the schedule may be obtained by calling the library.

During the school year the Bookmobile visits every school in the county from time to time. Groups of books are borrowed by the schools to supplement school libraries. Books for community use are also left at some of the schools.

A branch library at Grantsville was opened in the spring of 1959 to provide complete library facilities for those living in the northern part of the county. A reference collection, books for adults and children.

Information and reference are an important part of library service. Throughout the school year students made good use of the large book collection, the encyclopedias, the pamphlet file, and the magazine files. Summer also brings a great variety of questions—identification of birds and flowers, rules for sports and games, suggestions for campfire programs, construction of outdoor fireplaces and many other “do-it-yourself” projects. Club officers, camp leaders and Bible school teachers get help in program planning from the many books on crafts, religion, parliamentary law and education. The local history collection of the Garrett County Historical Society in the historical room interests both county residents and visitors.

The Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County is a tax-supported public library. Its book collection has grown rapidly through the purchase of outstanding books.

Good books add pleasure to your vacation. Make your leisure hours worthwhile by using the recreational resources of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Cooperative Fish Make Angling More Fun

Delightful, exciting and varied experiences invite the enthusiastic fisherman to Garrett County.

Deep Creek Lake is in the center of the pattern. Here every type of still water fishing is available. You may drift quietly into any one of the many long coves for bait, slug or fly casting. You may begin in the morning and troll mile after mile along the lovely shoreline, much of which is still a wilderness area. You will be rewarded with pike and perch, bass and bluegill, trout and pickerel.

In a few minutes you may drive northwest to Youghiogheny reservoir near Friendsville where the same type of fishing prevails.

Within a few minutes from Deep Creek Lake you may drive to the east to the Savage River lake and its many tributaries of clear mountain water where the native brook trout is still spawning and thriving.

You may enjoy motels and restaurants that rank with the best in any vacation area, or pitch your tent or park your trailer in wilderness areas where nature's unending symphony of primeval life continues as in ages past. Whether you stay a week, a month or a season you may find a new fishing area every day, and when your vacation is over you will want to return many times to the lakes and streams of these mountains.

Hunters Find Their Prey Ready, Too

For the enthusiastic Nimrod who likes to roam woodlands and fields unrestricted by trespass signs and fences, Garrett County is a paradise.

Whether you are pursuing the wily white-tail deer, ruffed grouse, grey and fox squirrel, or engaging in the increasingly popular sport of trapping the mink and muskrat, Garrett County offers you 77,000 acres of State owned forests and parks, most of which are unrestricted for hunting.

The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission and the Department of Forests and Parks efficiently manages this vast area for the sportsman and his family, providing hunting unlimited.

In addition to this area, most of the farming areas of Garrett County are open to hunting.

Hotel and motel accommodations are ample, as well as wilderness camping areas on public land. Varmint hunting is excellent in Garrett County and the varmint hunter can combine during the summer months his fishing trip with his varmint hunting.

For the bow and arrow enthusiast, Garrett County, along with other sections of Maryland, offers a bow and arrow season for the archer when small game as well as deer and turkey can be bagged with bow and arrow.

Come to Garrett County for your hunting vacation.

Winter's Snow Brings Skiing Thrills To Marsh Mountain Slope

Skiing in Western Maryland today is big business. This fabulous mountain summer resort area has beat the rap on winter weather, so to speak.

Any one knowing this section in the high Alleghenies of Garrett County knows of its past winters, when ten-foot snows blanketed the area and the mercury dropped out of the bottom of the glass; farm and town residents put their feet atop the kitchen stove and stayed quietly put. Hibernation began until the spring thaws came and resort life was gloriously at hand again.

But just as Henry Ford took the American family off the front porch on Sunday afternoons, so has the business of skiing brought Western Maryland out of winter hibernation into the splendor of the winter wonderland. Today, one will find the local gentry offering a wide range of services, from selling breakfasts, steaks and gasoline to passers-by—and taking lessons themselves. These local Marylanders now enjoy a highly profitable winter business. Nature laid this snow-gold at their back steps and now they are banking its treasures. Yet, life still goes on in sameness in the ski area district; livestock to feed, chop wood, thaw pumps, hack icicles from the drain pipes and shovel that familiar path from the house, garage or barn.

Into this setting flock hundreds of city and up-state skiers. Every available room is rented; the family larder is bared of pancakes, homemade sausages and county-boiled delightful maple syrup. The motels and hotels are brimming over with guests. There comes an excitement that even the summer vacationers cannot touch.

One can ski in Garrett County in any style. There is one of the best gear rental services in the country. Marsh Mountain Ski Slope is the largest ski area in Maryland. Here the State Ski Championships are held, drawing hundreds of entries yearly. It was through the formation of the Maryland Ski Club in Cumberland, Marsh Mountain had its ski origin five years ago. The Maryland Ski Club is host to the Washington and Baltimore Clubs each year. Skiing interest grew by leaps and bounds and the membership to the club increased to the degree that this club could not manage the huge demand. The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council sponsored the ski slope until the demand made it desirable to have independent ownership. Recreational Industries, Inc., took over, and most recently has been under the complete operation of Helmuth Heise and John Marple. Today this well known slope draws more and more skiers because of the combination of informality, superb scenery, good snow and excellent lodge accommodations.

In addition, a 1,400-foot rope tow, two short "snow-bunny tows" are installed for trail skiing.

Aside from the thrilling plunge down the mountain side, are the pleasures of the after-skiing hours. A most attractive Rustic Ski Lodge serves excellent meals, snacks and hot refreshments. This is the time of the fireplace, hot cider and cokes; for the wonderful technical discussions of skiing; for satisfying of ravenous outdoor appetites, for the enjoyment of music, dancing, highlighted by social mixing.

Marsh Mountain's other prime attraction is ice skating under flood lights and sledding on marked trails. Camera addicts who want a close-view for shots of scenic splendor have the full court of nature to explore. Some of the skiers join the run that skis food to snow-trapped animals.

Motorists coming to Garrett can take Route 50, turn north at junction of Route 219 at Red House and from Route 40 turn south at junction of Route 219 at Keyser Ridge. The Baltimore and Ohio Travel Agency has a special rate to skiers that includes a round trip ticket, lodging, (2 nights), meals and ski lessons for a packaged price. Greyhound bus has schedules from Washington and Baltimore with a stop at Red House.

The latest weather information about Deep Creek Lake is published in Washington and Baltimore newspapers weekly throughout the season.

Snow reports can be obtained at Triangle Sports Store, Baltimore, phone LExington 9-8162, or Jack Carroll, LExington 9-0400. In Washington, you can call the Washington Ski Club, REpublic 7-7157; or in the Pittsburgh area phone EXpress 1-0322, or phone direct to Deep Creek Lake, DEerfield 4-4820 or DEerfield 4-4444.

Playhouse

The Garrett County Playhouse begins its sixth season July 5 with an exciting schedule. This highly successful playhouse is now a "must" to the visitor to the lake. Not only do the lake people attend but the area surrounding is just as enthusiastic with subscribing to season membership tickets.

The Garrett County Playhouse was formed in 1955 by Gene Yell, director of the Drama and Television Department at the University of New Mexico, which is greatly known for its yearly crop of excellent actors.

Through the years Mr. Yell and family spent their summers in a family residence in this area. The lake-front was building into a profitable summer resort. Mr. Yell visioned the need for a summer theatre. At that time a very desirable location, the Arden Boat Club, was vacant. The Arden Boat Club was a huge barn converted into an indoor recreation center. In no time Mr. Yell with the excellent support of the area organization such as the Women's Business and Professional Club; Lions and Civic Clubs set up the Summer Straw Theatre and from the very first "Lights On" has been the everything desirable in a summer theatre.

The playhouse is still a togetherness of the community. A Board of Governors is appointed, a Prop committee takes complete charge of the sets, delving into old Maryland attics for precious furniture and wardrobes; the younger set do the ushering and work the refreshment bar.

There is widespread interest among the theatrical groups to get bids to join the Yell Summer Group. This is because the young actors after having a summer at the Yell productions go to state bookings. Here, they are quartered at Hemlock Hollow, picturesque county place that is buried deep in the wilderness of Maryland. This ancient old home sleeps, boards and transports the actors to work. A distance of 21 miles, is traveled daily by the cast. Mr. Yell has a robin-egg blue pickup that is named the Tally-Ho that takes the actors and props to the lake. Actors do the stage setting up and all details of wardrobes.

Mr. Yell feels that living at the farm actors become close and rehearsing is easy and good going. The young actors are mostly from drama schools and Universities.

This summer's plays to be presented,—Five performances each week: July 5, For Love or Money. July 12, The Gazebo. July 19, Roomful of Roses. July 26, Girls in 509. Aug. 2, Misalliance. Aug. 9, 3 Men on a Horse. July 19, Pursuit of Happiness. Aug. 23, Anniversary Waltz.

Falls At Muddy Creek Are Highest In Maryland

Aladdin's genie couldn't produce a more startling waterfall than Muddy Creek Falls, which rises high in the wondrous beauty of the Swallow Falls Park in Garrett County. Here, in the midst of some of the most inspiring beauty on this continent, is the mystic miracle of creation. Rock formation extends out to a sheer drop, millions of gallons of water in nature's sand hue fall at this unusual height to the arms of the valley below.

Holds The Limelight At Mountain Lake Park

The 39th Annual Maryland Championship Tennis Tournament will be held from August 2nd through the 6th. Many top-seeded players have helped make this annual event an exciting week.

Washington, Baltimore, Richmond, Charleston, Wheeling and Pittsburgh are just a few of the larger towns represented by players each year. A new men's singles challenge cup was presented last year. Women's singles and doubles for both men and women are regularly scheduled.

The Mountain Lake Park Tennis Club invites any one who wants to play tennis to use its courts free of charge, though restrictions are placed on them during tournament time.

Tennis week helps bring the summer social activities to its height. The entertainment ranges from a real corn roast to the semi-formal dance at the end of the week. Mrs. Walter W. Pollard Jr., from Mountain Lake Park can furnish entry blanks for the tournament as well as arranging for housing.

Metropolis Community

Deep Creek Lake, now thirty-five years in growth, is a thriving, vibrant, growing community of more than 2000 cottages; cottages that go from plain summer dwellings to exciting luxurious expensive house beautifuls.

Here, the four seasons of the year blend subtly, one into another giving a high evaluation to the resort as a year around playground and community. The years of growth have brought the most in the way of progressive improvement to all inlets of the lakefront. Roads now are modern and planned to all corners of the shoreline and scenic mountain trails of nature's splendor habitat. Along with this fast physical growth has come another growth, the organized spirit of the community. The property owners have formed the Property Owners Association, which meets twice yearly, spring and fall. Rules and regulations are set up toward a good community inner government.

The Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks has entered into the community resort life by adding in quantity facilities for picnickers, fishermen, and camping sites.

Yet while Metropolitan Deep Creek has been growing fast into one of Western Maryland's greatest resort areas, the community of cottage owners are happy, relaxed people. Much of their leisure is spent outdoors. . .resting and entertaining on porches, beaches, loggias. . .tinkering with their boats. . .fishing, swimming. . .gardening. . .enjoying outdoor cooking. . .or taking advantage of the vast variety of participation and spectator sports, summer theatre, bookmobile, and inner community plans for the future.

Swallow Falls Attracts Visitors

Magnificent is the only word descriptive of this on-rush of water that combines beauty, force and mountain strength that tumbles in frothy cascade murals headlong into the quiet dignity of stately green-draped mountains of Garrett County. The fierce rush over bony rocks creates a sound that fills the whole area. There is no color or shade to the rushing water, only the virginal tone of nature.

This historic State Forest heritage of water emerges in masses of sandstone cliffs, ledges and chasms, creating that unspoiled awe that all tourists travel to see.

Swallow Falls, as named by the Indian, is on the popular Autumn Glory Excursion that comes into the State Forest every Autumn just to witness nature on riot.

You'll like to cry "Fore!" on the beautiful, rolling fairways of the Oakland Country Club—a fine, nine-hole course just ten miles south of Deep Creek Lake. Open to both members and visitors, this course is rated highly among the area's many recreational facilities.

Greens and fairways are well kept, and the gentle hills on which the course is built never fail to sharpen the interest and attention of golfers, with each new round providing additional thrills. The course offers back tees for the second nine, and has a par of 34-35 for the 5,714 yards. Club house facilities are available, and snacks, sandwiches and refreshments are at hand. The club house is a popular gathering place for social functions, which are open to all members, both local and out of town.

A well stocked pro shop is operated in connection with the club house, and private lessons are available if desired. For those who just want to improve their game by hitting out a bucket of balls, there is a driving range adjacent to the club house.

The course is owned by the City of Oakland and is located on the municipal water farm. Actual operation is carried on under a lease to a non-profit corporation organized by a group of area golfers, who receive their only compensation through the pleasures of the game and the improvements that can be made to the facilities. Much personal "after hours" labor by this group has made it the interesting and playable course it is.

You'll be welcome at the Oakland Country Club, and perhaps you'll find that mountain air is just what you needed to play your best game in a long, long time.

Courteous treatment—a sporty course—and reasonable fees bring visitors back again and again. Come and see us—on this exhilarating course in Garrett County's fine, pure air.

Deep Creek Park New Feature

Deep Creek Lake State Park, the newest addition to recreation in Garrett County, is fast becoming popular for area comfort and pleasure seekers.

The park, at one time a game refuge, officially opened July 1 of last year and has been accommodating an average of 2,500 to 3,000 persons on Sunday.

Located near a Garrett County road, which can be reached from U. S. Route 219, the recreational area comprises 150 acres. The entire layout extends over 1,764 acres.

The park contains a camping area, able to accommodate 55 families; a bath house; a mile of shoreline, and 54 picnic tables and fireplaces. A small comfort station is located in the picnic area. Landry facilities are available.

Parking conveniences are plentiful. There are seven parking sections in which to park cars. The usual Sunday automobile capacity is about 350 to 500.

A fee of 50 cents is charged for parking on weekends and holidays, and camp sites can be rented for a weekly rate of $7 or a nightly rate of $1.25.

Stretching along the body of water, used for both swimming and fishing, is an 800-foot beach.

The area is open every day of the week from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Campers may arrange their own site, settle in and set up themselves, and are checked in after settling.

These trails in the park are marked and maintained by State Conservation Department, penetrate sections of the dwelling place of the Indians' Great Spirit that have been opened only surprisingly recently.

Swallow Falls Ultimate In Outdoor Relaxation

For the more realistic tourists, intent on combining scenery and history, the Swallow Falls Park is traditionally the finest outdoor vacation visitation that can be enjoyed.

In this lovely region of rivers and forests, less than a ten minute drive from the main highway, off Route 219, the visitor can quickly find himself in the wilderness—but with modern facilities. A long finger of Maryland's great northern forests stretches south here, beyond where it brushes against the mountain-top splendor of Deep Creek Lake, to join the section of the formidable Allegheny Mountains and Youghiogeny River.

But the forests are not all. There are modern and plentiful park facilities at elbow's reach. Lovely spacious tables, joined with canopied benches, provide outdoor eating pleasure and provide shelter from nature's elements. Stone paths lead to all fireplaces. Time is yours to sample all the other natural features in and near the park. Picknicking places are to be found down every road, all scenically outstanding. The main trails are shown on topographic maps, but amateur hikers feel more comfortable with a word-guide.

To be found here are gemstones. Years of rock formation and outcropping of pegmatite expose beautiful stones for collectors. Rare and beautiful butterflies flit and hover near the wild flowers above the trails.

And it is so easy to leave the sunny highway, drop down into this park and walk safely through acres of virginal forest that for hundreds of square miles extends into some of Maryland's more varied geography, all carrying the hushed imprint of beauty.

Agriculture Basic To Economy

Where once roamed the fat Indian buffalo, now is expensive rich farmlands and dairy herds. Agriculture is big business in Garrett County.

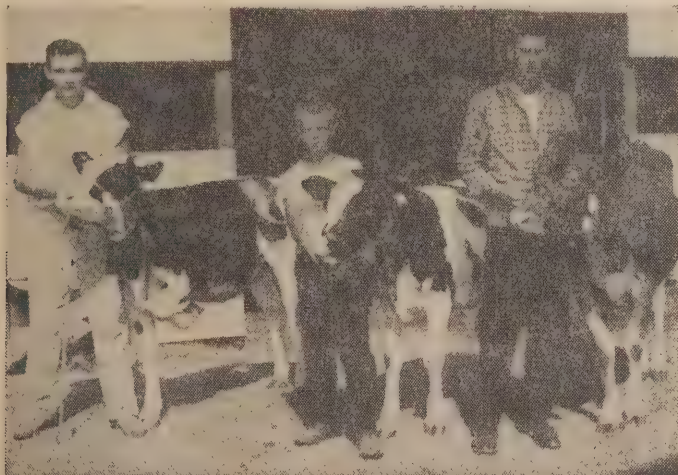

The average farm today is a well organized one. Fine equipment has enabled a vast increase in production and income. Government loans are available for constant improvement to the soil and dairy herds. Today this fertile county is one of the leading producers of milk. A central collection station, The City Roller Mills, collects and distributes the milk. The Carnation Milk Company has a depot in Oakland, here the milk is pasteurized for shipping. The Fike Milk Company from Uniontown has a daily pickup run through the county.

The high altitude climate in the past cut short the season's crops. Pasture grasses, hay and legumes were the featured crops. Today through constant experimenting truck farming has come into its own. Vegetables such as broccoli, cauliflower and lettuce and a new specie of potato are grown extensively and are purchased by large produce firms in the East. Today a new crop is planned that will boost the farmer's income. Grains in recent years have placed in the top market.

Cattle is another fast growing business in the county. Many farmers have converted to all cattle raising. Being near central shipping centers such as Pittsburgh and Baltimore, sale outlets are plentiful.

A part of this section is settled by Amish. Amish are known for their knowledge of the soil. Their farms are kept in the family from generation to generation. Progressional farming has been accepted by the Amish. The future has bright Agricultural promise.

HERRINGTON MANOR

Parents adore this popular picnic area with an intimate 55-acre lake that provides swimming, with lifeguards for the older boy or girl, or paddling along the shoreline for the toddler, and fishing and boating for all ages.

This family recreation spot can be easily reached from Deep Creek, Oakland or Swallow Falls. The entire park is geared for fun and without the usual worries that surround a big lake for smaller children. The parking space is generous and conveniently near the picnic area. Ninety tables are placed around in the area for picnic or cookouts, each in range of an outdoor fireplace. A modern and roomy bath house with sanitation is within easy steps.

Herrington Manor is a State Park and has served a large bulk of summer and fall traffic, which has been lessened since the opening of the Deep Creek State Park last year. There are 16 cabins with four new ones under construction for rent. Each is modernized with electricity, hot and cold running water, cooking and rest room facilities. Accommodations range from a family of six a single.

This outing is popular with families who have several children and only one baby sitter, Mom. Here the children can "live-it-up" without the parents' worry for their safety; lifeguards are close by and the activity center is in full view. The cost is very little. A small charge for parking on week-ends and holidays is the only tab you pick up.

THE BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD AND GARRETT COUNTY

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad was the most important single factor in the development of what is now Garrett County. The line was laid across the mountains from the Potomac to Cheat River in 1850-51, paralleling the old Inter-State Road, and the benefits it brought were immediately apparent.

Before 1849 there was neither village nor town in the southern part of Garrett County, but in the footsteps of the Iron Horse came the development of the timber and coal resources. Farms were cleared, towns and villages appeared, in fact the whole area atop the mountains began to grow. Yough Glades (now Oakland) expanded rapidly into a thriving commercial center and in 1872 was chosen as the seat of Garrett County, which was named in honor of the President of the Baltimore & Ohio in recognition of his continuing efforts to promote the growth of the area. This sudden growth necessitated a railroad station and the first mountain top railroad station in the world was erected at Oakland.

With the successful laying of the railroad through Piedmont, Oakland and Terra Alta, a major construction problem has been overcome. Crossing the mountains began with a 17 mile grade, rising 116 feet per mile, then through a 30 foot cut at the summit at Altamont. From Terra Alta the road descended to the Cheat River by a heavy grade, clinging high to the side of a steep chasm.

The mountain area of Western Maryland offered an ideal summer vacation spot and the B&O encouraged development of the territory for this purpose. B&O's Deer Park Hotel was built in 1873 as the first mountain top resort hotel in this country. It was adjacent to Deer Park Village, the site of the famous Boiling Springs, from which clear, pure mountain water is still obtained for use in B&O Dining Cars. This hotel was closely followed by the erection of the Oakland Hotel, which was opened to the public in 1876. Both of these hotels have long since vanished, but in their day they were summer resorts of world renown.

Today this thriving country is an important part of the B&O area and is served by B&O through Main Line trains, both Westward to Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis and Eastward to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

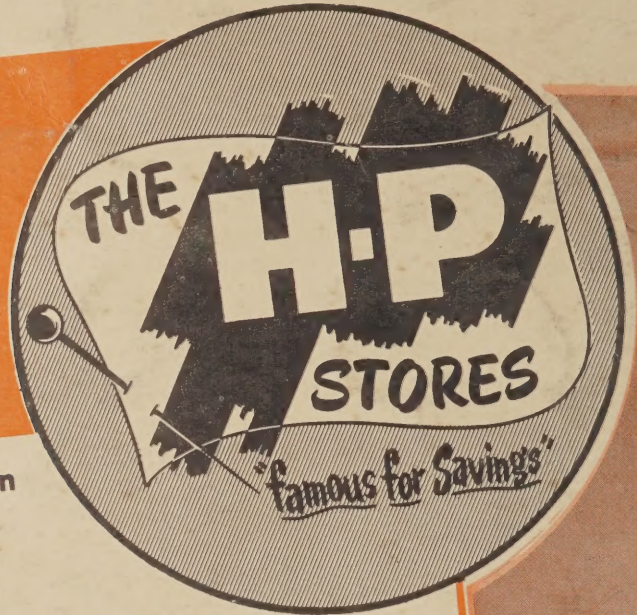

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council cooperate in the promotion of ski-trains; one and two day Autumn Leaf package vacation tours; camera caravan trips and sightseeing trips to Nature's scenic wonderland.
